PRESIDENT'S LETTER

We set out to “make a difference” this year... and hopefully we did in both the lives of Junior League of Baltimore members and the Baltimore community. As David Schwartz, author of “the Magic of Thinking Big” said, “the size of your success is determined by the size of your belief. Think little goals and expect little achievements. Think big goals and win big successes.”

We took some risks and proved that the “magic of thinking big” does work. It especially worked in galvanizing a small group of Junior League of Baltimore members in taking on the Maryland General Assembly... and coming away with $300,000 in funds to be used for construction of our new remodeled Wise Penny and Headquarters Building.

This year was exciting because many of you stepped up to the plate with new ideas... or a new twist on how to revitalize an existing program. The Boutique Warehouse Sales, Kids in the Kitchen and Touch-A-Truck are excellent examples of new programs that were successfully launched through your efforts.

We made a difference in New Orleans where members of the Junior League of Baltimore joined with 1,000 League members from throughout the US, Mexico, Canada and the UK to travel to New Orleans to lend a helping hand in “Rebuilding a Better New Orleans.” As Mary Harriman, founder of the Junior League said, “We have the responsibility to act and we have the opportunity to conscientiously act to affect the environment around us.” In 1901, Junior League members were working to make an impact. Today, 106 years later, we are still making an impact both in our local community... and wherever we are needed.

We can even think bigger in the future by unleashing the talents of our members, capitalizing on the renovation and expansion of the Wise Penny and trying innovative approaches to both new and existing programs. However, we can never forget our mission is “to promote voluntarism, develop the potential of women and improve communities through effective action and leadership.”

We must remember our job is never complete. We have to make even further impact and dream even bigger dreams to live up to our potential.

ANNE JOHNSON
PRESIDENT, 2006-2007

Celebrating our 95th year in Baltimore, the Junior League continues to work towards making a difference in the communities that we serve. Living up to our mission of women committed to promoting voluntarism, and improving the communities through effective action and leadership of trained volunteers, we were able to make an impact in many different areas by leveraging our shared resources and expertise.

Whether helping parents through educational workshops, assisting kids in better understanding the effects of childhood obesity, improving literacy in our school system or helping women transition into more rewarding roles, the Junior League is there pushing forward the initiatives that will make Baltimore a more vibrant community and a better place to live.

KIDS IN THE KITCHEN

Kids in the Kitchen is a League-wide initiative designed to create an impact in our community around issues of growing importance—childhood obesity and poor nutrition. The Community Council was able to significantly grow the size and impact of the Kids in the Kitchen event due to a new relationship (and venue change) with Port Discovery and increased funding. The event, which addresses childhood obesity through interactive fitness and nutrition stations, had appeal for all Junior League of Baltimore markets, including our clients, Junior League of Baltimore members and their junior Junior

WOMEN'S MENTORING PROGRAM

The Women's Mentoring Program is designed to prepare women for a better future by providing compassion, education and assessments that enable them to successfully transition to the next positive step in their lives. Junior League of Baltimore members mentor women from the Waverly Family Center. There were eight workshops held this year that would assist women in reaching the next step in education or in obtaining a job. In the first year at the Waverly Family Center, one of the participants received her GED, one enrolled in the GNA/CNA Certification Program at the Caroline Leaguers, and the general public. Held at Port Discovery, the museum had more than 1,900 visitors that day, compared to their usual 800-1,200. Additionally, this event created new partners and sponsors for the League, including Port Discovery, Whole Foods, IWIF and Morgan State University, who provided contributions in money and product, media coverage, and a Food Pyramid rap contest.

YOUTH LITERACY WORKSHOPS

The Youth Literacy Program focuses on developing middle school girls to be future volunteers and leaders in improving literacy in the elementary schools. This program enables these youth leaders to build their self-confidence through reading enhancement and eventually guides them to become mentors and role models for elementary school children. This year the Junior League of Baltimore led seven evening Literacy workshops at Francis Scott Key School, teaching 12 middle school girls to be youth leaders for literacy with 15 elementary school children. The middle school girls then mentored elementary school children during six Lunchtime Literacy workshops. The participating middle school students earn Community Service hours for the time spent as youth leaders for literacy.

Center, three applied for training programs through the Continuing Education Program at Baltimore Community College and two will receive Child Care Certification. This once again is a fulfillment of our primary mission to develop the potential of women and improve communities through the effective action and leadership of trained volunteers.

HAMPDEN FAMILY CENTER HOLIDAY PARTY

There were over 300 members of the community that attended the event, including 150 children of all ages. Held at the Hampden Family Center, the Holiday Party was a joint collaboration with Junior League of Baltimore Community Projects Committee, In League Services and the Wise Penny. The event this year was a huge success. The Hampden community, adults and children alike, flooded the Hampden Center to enjoy a wonderful day of holiday festivities. The Larks sang Christmas carols while the children enjoyed visiting with Santa, decorating gingerbread houses and making a variety of crafts. This annual event is another way the Junior League of Baltimore continues to give to those less fortunate over the holiday season.

HAMPDEN HEALTH FAIR

The Annual Hampden Health Fair is part of Junior League of Baltimore's continuing program to promote health and healthy lifestyles for members of the Hampden community. Health care providers and corporations, are solicited by the Junior League of Baltimore to provide free of charge blood pressure screening, body fat testing, cholesterol testing and to donate samples of healthy foods or educational materials. This year's Fair had close to 250 community attendees and provided health screening and education for 75 community residents.

LARKS CELEBRATE 50TH ANNIVERSARY

The Larks celebrated 50 years of song in the Baltimore community with a party with 120 attendees, including 38 past and present Larks and their guests, as well as a large group of Junior League of Baltimore Sustainers, Actives and other guests. The Larks is the longest running project of the Junior League of Baltimore and it is believed to be the longest running choral group of all the Junior Leagues in the United States. Five of the original Larks were present: Sally Murphy, founder, Nancy Gephart, Normie Harris, Dayle Jones and Ann King. The Larks received citations from Baltimore Mayor Sheila Dixon and from Governor Martin O'Malley. During the year, The Larks provided 25 singing performances at a variety of locations including nursing homes, senior centers, the Hampden Holiday Party, and the Govans Library Sing-A-Long with Santa. The Larks had the pleasure of performing at a Musical Gala to Benefit the Robert Packard Center for ALS Research in honor of Jim Kotmair where the audience was over 250. In total, the Larks touched 1,294 people with their gift of song.

GOVANS ELEMENTARY SCHOOL PARENTAL ENGAGEMENT PROJECT

The PAR Committee developed strong partnerships in the community leading to the launch of a new Junior League of Baltimore program. The School Project, piloting at Govans Elementary School, will increase parental engagement through educational workshops in Junior League of Baltimore expertise areas.

PROMOTING VOLUNTARISM

REBUILDING A BETTER NEW ORLEANS

In early October, Junior Leaguers from across the country and from around the globe, joined together to participate in a week-long project to help “Rebuild a Better New Orleans.” This event marked the largest gathering of Junior Leaguers from across the Association, outside of the Association of Junior Leagues International annual conference, who committed to over 12,000 volunteer hours on the week’s projects. What began as an invitation by the Junior League of New Orleans, resulted in the mobilization of close to 1,000 volunteers over the course of nine days, over 600 were Junior League volunteers who traveled from 200 cities in the US, Canada and the UK. We can be very proud that the Junior League of Baltimore was represented in that number. Once again displaying our commitment to voluntarism no matter where we are needed.

DEVELOPING THE POTENTIAL OF WOMEN

A central part of the Junior League of Baltimore’s mission is developing the potential of all volunteers to become effective leaders, prepared women who will impact the Baltimore community through service and leadership within the Junior League of Baltimore, in their professional capacities, or in other non-profit organizations through service on Boards. The training offered to Junior League of Baltimore members is critical to preparing our members to make a positive impact in the community.

This past year, the Junior League of Baltimore welcomed new members, who in less than a full year, completed more than 2,000 hours of training and service to the Junior League of Baltimore and the Baltimore community. Our leadership track sent members to regional conferences and sent the Junior League of Baltimore President and President Elect to national Association of Junior Leagues International sponsored conferences to hone their nonprofit leadership skills.

RAISING THE JUNIOR LEAGUE OF BALTIMORE’S PROFILE IN THE COMMUNITY

The Communications Council did an outstanding job this year, cultivating new relationships with television and print mediums, including WJZ and The Examiner, leading to greater coverage than in recent years. The following are some of their accomplishments:

- A live interview with Channel 15 for Kids in the Kitchen
 - Channel 11 and Channel 2 interviews during the spring Boutique Warehouse Sale and Channel 15 coverage about the sale
 - A newly cultivated relationship with The Examiner leading to multiple story coverage, press releases and advertising
 - A newly cultivated relationship with Baltimore Magazine resulting in in-kind advertising for Boutique Warehouse Sale
 - Redesign and launch of the public Junior League of Baltimore website
 - Continued relationship with “Downtown” Diane leading to promotion of Junior League of Baltimore events on WHFS’s Ed Norris Show
 - Relationship with Baltimore Sun leading to an e-mail blast about Boutique Warehouse Sale and Bond Bill coverage
 - A citation from Governor Martin O’Malley in recognition of the Lark’s 50th anniversary
 - Raised quality of internal and external advertisement
 - Kicked off advertisement campaign to highlight Junior League of Baltimore’s 95 years of service in the Baltimore Community.

FUNDRAISING

There was significant progress made in fundraising this year with a sustained effort made in generating the necessary funds for the new Headquarters Building. Without the revenues generated through fund raising, the Junior League of Baltimore would not be able to underwrite the community projects we have committed to over the years.

HEADQUARTERS BUILDING

Thirty members of the Junior League of Baltimore descended on Annapolis to take on the Maryland General Assembly's House Appropriations Committee on Bond Bill Saturday to raise money for the Headquarters Project. All were decked out in Junior League of Baltimore t-shirts, armed with photo boards and determined to get the funds needed to continue to move forward with the project. With the support of Senator Conway and Delegate Doory, the Junior League of Baltimore secured $300,000 in Bond Bill funding from the State of Maryland, the highest amount awarded in Baltimore City.

INDIVIDUAL GIVING AND UNITED WAY CONTRIBUTIONS

Individual Giving surpassed its goal, representing an individual increase of close to $40 per member for the Annual Fund drive. Fall United Way Contributions surpassed budget goals by $5,000.

BOUTIQUE WAREHOUSE SALE

The Finance Council launched a new fundraiser for the Junior League of Baltimore, the Boutique Warehouse Sale. The first Boutique Warehouse Sale, held in October, attracted more than 20 boutiques that provided their end of season and clearance merchandise at prices up to 70% off for the one-day sale. The first and second Boutique Warehouse Sales generated close to $60,000 in sales, netting close to $30,000 for Junior League of Baltimore programs and initiatives as well as cultivating new relationships and customers for the League.

TOUCH-A-TRUCK

The first Touch-A-Truck fund raising event attracted more than 700 attendees from the general public and the Junior League of Baltimore. And over 90% of those attending were not affiliated with the Junior League of Baltimore. The attendees got to climb on and explore the trucks, racecars, and safety equipment while raising funds for the programs and initiatives of the Junior League of Baltimore.

“I think that voluntarism is the lifeblood of democracy...that’s where we get our new and creative ideas, we get our energy, we develop the power to persuade people as to solutions and then we have the stick-to-it-iveness to see to it that those ideas are implemented.”

ORGANIZATION GROWTH/BUILDING OPPORTUNITIES

This past year was critical in moving forward with the Building Opportunities project to provide necessary improvements and renovations to our Wise Penny Thrift Store and create a second floor addition to house our Junior League of Baltimore Headquarters.

The renovations to the Wise Penny will provide a more pleasant shopping experience for our customers and support a growth in revenue to support our operations and community programming. In addition to providing clothing to the community, the Wise Penny serves as a training facility for the leadership development of our members, who wholly oversee the store operations, and will also serve as a workforce development site for our Women's Mentoring Program in the next fiscal year.

The addition of a second story to house the Junior League of Baltimore headquarters will create positive synergy for all facets of our organization, including the Wise Penny, the leadership development of our members, and our community programs. Our newly renovated Wise Penny and headquarters addition will afford better exposure for the League, while serving as a venue for member gatherings, member training, fundraising activities, and provide space for our local community partners. Key project milestones accomplished this year include:

- Completing architectural designs
- Securing final permits
- Successfully lobbying for a $300,000 State Bond Bill
- Announcing the groundbreaking of the project for the Summer of 2007

Thank you for your support of this project. We look forward to completing construction in the next fiscal year!
